Community News May 2026

A Fond Farewell & Thank You

"After almost four years, I've decided to step down from my role as editor of our community newsletter. It has been a joy and a privilege to help share the stories, events, and voices that make this neighborhood so special. I'm deeply grateful to our volunteers—our unsung heroes—who patiently deliver the newsletter to your mailbox, rain or shine. I'm also thankful to everyone who contributed, offered feedback, or simply took the time to read each issue. Though I'm passing the torch, I'm confident the newsletter will continue to thrive and reflect the spirit of our community."

— Rube Domi

On behalf of the entire Mission Bay community, we extend our most generous thanks to Rube Domi and her family for nearly four years of dedicated service as newsletter editor. Rube poured her heart into every issue, ensuring our community stayed informed, connected, and heard. We wish Rube and her family all the very best in whatever comes next. Thank you, Rube—you will be deeply missed in this role!

A Note from the Editor's Desk

We are looking for your contributions! This newsletter is your space to share news, stories, photos, and matters that affect daily life here at Mission Bay Mobile Home Park. We gratefully welcome articles, announcements, event recaps, and images from our community members.

Submission deadline: Please submit all articles, content and or classified by the 10th of each month to allow time for organizing and layout before publication on the 15th.

Please note: We kindly ask that submissions remain non-political in nature. This newsletter is dedicated to matters that directly affect your life as a senior living in our mobile home park—community events, park updates, helpful resources, neighbor spotlights, and shared memories.

Share Your Photos & Stories!

BRAIN TEASERS

Riddle:
I have cities, but no houses live there. I have mountains, but no trees grow there. I have water, but no fish swim there. What am I?
Answer: A map.

Did You Know?
Doing puzzles like Sudoku regularly is linked to better memory and sharper problem-solving. Even 15 minutes a day makes a difference.

VIEU NEWS

by Peter Cleaveland

Do We Need to Worry About Tsunamis?

We received an email from the ShakeOut folks — the people who organize the annual ShakeOut earthquake drill, in which VIEU and Mission Bay participate. They invited VIEU to run an exercise for California's 2026 Tsunami Preparedness Week (March 21–29). We've looked at the tsunami hazard level for Mission Bay in the past, and are happy to report that, although the water may cover the ground in the Heron Bay neighborhood, we're pretty safe behind our wall. So that's one hazard for which we don't need to prepare (along with forest fires).

VIEU Has Changed Banks. Should You?

Some months ago we received a notice from Citi Bank that the VIEU account, which had been exempt from monthly fees since our founding in 2006, would now be charged, unless we kept a month-to-month balance several times our total funds. We checked with Chase, but their minimum balance, while not as high as Citi's, was still pretty close to what we had. We then stopped by BMO and were told that we could open a corporate account with a balance requirement of just $100. So now VIEU banks at BMO. Let's hope they keep that fee structure in place for a while.

This brings up an interesting point: With banks making changes all the time, maybe it would be a good idea for all of us to see if our banks have begun to sneak in new fees against our own accounts. Just a thought.

VIEU 新闻

我们需要担心海啸吗？

我们收到了ShakeOut团队的邮件（他们是组织每年ShakeOut地震演习的人，VIEU和Mission Bay都参与其中）。他们邀请VIEU为加利福尼亚州2026年海啸防备周（3月21日至29日）进行一次演练。我们以前曾查看过Mission Bay的海啸风险水平，很高兴地报告，虽然水可能会淹没Heron Bay社区的地面，但我们在围墙后面还是相当安全的。所以这是一个我们不需要为之准备的灾害（和森林火灾一样）。

VIEU换了银行。你也应该换吗？

几个月前，我们收到花旗银行的通知，告知自2006年成立以来一直免除月费的VIEU账户，现在如果不保持几倍于我们总资金的月结余额，就会被收取费用。我们咨询了摩根大通，虽然他们的最低余额要求不如花旗那么高，但仍然接近我们现有的余额。然后我们去了BMO，得知可以开设一个只需$100余额要求的公司账户。所以现在VIEU在BMO开设银行账户。希望他们能维持这个费用结构一段时间。

这引发了一个有趣的观点：随着银行频繁调整政策，或许我们每个人都应该检查一下自己的银行账户，看看是否偷偷开始收取新的费用。只是个建议。

Solving tips:

- Start with rows or boxes that already have the most numbers filled in.
- Look for a number that fits in only one cell in a row, column, or box.
- Use a pencil to write possible numbers lightly, then erase as you narrow down.
- Never guess. Every puzzle has exactly one correct answer that logic will find.

VIEU Needs Block Captains

VIEU is looking for volunteers to serve as Block Captains for Mission Bay. This is a simple but important role. You serve as the contact point for your section of the park during an emergency.

What a Block Captain does:

- Know your neighbors. Keep a short list of who lives nearby, especially seniors who live alone or anyone with a medical need.

- Check in during an emergency. If VIEU activates, walk your section and report back. You are our eyes on the ground.

- Relay information. Pass updates from VIEU to residents in your block who may not have received word yet.

No special training is required. VIEU will walk you through everything. You only need to be willing to help your neighbors.

We currently need captains for:
Spaces 50–99 • Spaces 150–199 • Spaces 250–299

If you are interested, please call Peter Cleaveland at (510) 351-1742 or speak to any VIEU member.

Thank you for helping keep Mission Bay safe.

VIEU 需要区块联络员

VIEU 正在寻找志愿者担任 Mission Bay 的区块联络员。这是一个简单但重要的职务。

区块联络员的职责：

- 了解您的邻居。尤其是独居的老人或有医疗需要的人。

- 紧急情况下检查。如果 VIEU 启动应急响应，请巡查您的区域。

- 传递信息。将 VIEU 的通知转达给未收到消息的居民。

无需特殊培训。VIEU 将为您提供指导。您只需要愿意帮助邻居。

目前需要以下区域的联络员：
50–99 号 • 150–199 号 • 250–299 号

如有意愿，请致电 Peter Cleaveland：(510) 351-1742。

感谢您帮助保护 Mission Bay 的安全。

The Machine You Trusted

By Alexandra, Mission Bay News Editor

Walter had retired twice — first from the Navy, then from a defense contractor where he spent 22 years designing communication systems. He was 71, careful with money, and had never been fooled by anything.

On a Tuesday morning he was paying bills online when a blue notification filled his screen. It said his Windows license had expired and his computer had been flagged for suspicious activity. A toll-free number appeared below a countdown timer.

Walter had seen fake pop-ups before. But this one used the right fonts, referenced his operating system version, and his computer had been sluggish that week. He called the number.

The man who answered gave his name and employee ID. He used words Walter recognized: registry, firewall, remote diagnostic. He told Walter that Microsoft technicians used a program called TeamViewer to access machines directly.

Walter had used remote access software at work for years. He typed in the code.

Within three minutes the cursor on his screen began moving on its own. The technician opened the browser, navigated to Walter's bank login saved in the browser, and explained that the virus activity was linked to his accounts. The money needed to move to a protected holding account immediately.

Walter authorized a transfer of $31,000.

No follow-up came. By the time his daughter noticed something was wrong, the money was gone across three accounts and an international wire.

"I knew what TeamViewer was," Walter said. "I had used it for two decades. That was exactly the problem. They did not trick me with something I had never seen. They dressed the scam in something I trusted completely."

HOW IT WORKS

Scammers purchase data profiles with names, device types, and browsing patterns before they call. The key move is always remote access. Once you type in the code, everything on your screen is visible — saved passwords, open bank tabs, everything.

The FBI received over 18,000 tech support fraud complaints from people over 60 in 2023, with losses near $600 million. People with technical backgrounds fall harder, not easier — their expertise becomes the mechanism of the deception.

WHAT TO DO

1. If the cursor moves on its own, close the laptop. Pull power if needed. Call someone on a number already in your phone.
2. No legitimate company calls you first about your computer. The pop-up with a phone number is the scam.
3. File a report at ic3.gov even if you feel embarrassed. Every report leads to the next arrest.

REAL CONVICTIONS

Romana Leyva — 100 months federal prison, $4.6M forfeiture. Ran tech support fraud using fake Microsoft pop-ups and remote access software. Nooruddin Bhai Narsuddin — 5 years federal prison, $104,000 restitution. Posed as a federal agent collecting cash from victims. Sentenced 2025.

Age Discrimination Is Illegal. Here Is What Every Worker Should Know.

Source: AARP • aarp.org/work

If you are 40 or older and looking for work, or concerned about your current job, you are not alone. A January 2025 AARP survey found that 74 percent of older Americans believe their age could be a barrier to getting hired. Federal law protects you, but many workers do not know the full picture.

The Law Protects You

The Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967 (ADEA) makes it illegal to treat workers age 40 and up differently because of their age. This covers hiring, promotions, raises, layoffs, and workplace harassment from coworkers, supervisors, or clients.

California law adds even stronger protections and specifically prohibits employers from asking about your age during the hiring process.

Complaints Are Rising Fast

Age discrimination charges filed with the federal EEOC have climbed sharply in recent years. In 2022 there were 11,500 charges. By 2023 that rose to 14,144. In 2024 the number reached 16,223. That is a 41 percent increase in just two years.

When Does Bias Begin?

A 2023 employer survey found that many hiring managers consider applicants "too old to hire" at a median age of 58, and "too old to work" at 62. These attitudes are exactly what the ADEA was written to stop.

What You May Experience

Among older job seekers surveyed by AARP:

- 50 percent were asked for age-related information such as graduation dates
- 14 percent say they were not hired because of their age
- 25 percent of older workers heard negative comments about a coworker's age on the job

Women Face a Double Barrier

Research from Harvard Business Review found that older professional women face both age and gender bias at the same time. Older men are often described as experienced. Older women are often described as outdated. Researchers call this gendered ageism.

You Are More Valuable Than They Think

An AARP study found that 65 percent of workers age 55 and up are highly engaged in their jobs, compared to 58 to 60 percent of younger workers. Older workers also bring lower turnover and deeper experience.

What You Can Do

If you believe you have been discriminated against, you can file a charge with the federal EEOC at eeoc.gov, or consult an employment attorney. Keep a written record of every incident, including dates, names, and what was said or done.

Pennsylvania Dutch Chicken Corn Soup with Rivels

Content from Peter Cleaveland

This soup is popular in early summer as fresh corn becomes available.

Rivels are small dumplings traditionally added to soups in Pennsylvania Dutch cooking. The soup works well with or without them, although with is more traditional. Some people omit the rivels and add egg noodles instead.

INGREDIENTS FOR SOUP

1 stewing chicken, 3–4 lb., cut up
4 qt cold water
1 tsp salt
½ cup coarsely chopped celery stalk and leaves
1 medium onion, sliced
6–8 cups corn, fresh, frozen, or canned (with liquid)
¼ cup chopped parsley
Pepper to taste
Cream (optional)
2–4 hard-boiled eggs, chopped (optional)

INGREDIENTS FOR RIVELS

1 cup flour
1 egg, beaten

DIRECTIONS

Cook chicken in water with salt until tender and meat removes easily from the bones. Remove bones, cut meat into bite-size pieces, and return to broth.

Add celery, onion, and corn. Bring to a boil and cook 15 minutes.

Meanwhile, combine flour and beaten egg. Use a fork or two knives until the mixture is crumbly. Do not mold them into individual dumplings.

Drop rivels slowly into boiling soup, stirring to keep them from sticking together.

Cover and simmer seven minutes.

Add pepper, parsley, and chopped hard-boiled egg if using.

Serve hot. Pass cream separately so each person can add it to their bowl as desired.

Mission Bay Community Garden — Our Facebook Page

We're excited to share that Mission Bay now has its own Facebook page called "Mission Bay Gardens and Owners." This page was created with the idea of building an online community space for our park—a place where neighbors can connect, share, and stay informed beyond the pages of this newsletter.

Think of it as a community garden that grows online—just like our real gardens here in the park, it takes a little care from all of us to flourish. This Facebook page serves as a stepping stone until we establish a more permanent online presence such as a dedicated website or community app.

What you'll find on the page:

- Community updates, event announcements, and park news

Looking Ahead — Growing Our Online Presence

Our Facebook page is just the beginning! Here are some ideas we're exploring to keep our community connected:

- A dedicated community website — a central hub for newsletters, calendars, contacts, and resources
- A digital newsletter archive — so you can read past issues anytime
- An online community board or group chat — for quick neighbor-to-neighbor communication
- A shared photo gallery — to celebrate our park's beauty and community spirit
