A Letter to Every Resident

Mobile Home Community · 15333 Wicks Blvd, San Leandro CA 94579

November 2026

Dear Residents of Mission Bay,

Mission Bay News belongs to every resident. It is free and shares news with the whole park. Every home should have fair access to it.

Corrections

In our last issue, we printed Eddie's name as Eddy. We were wrong, and we apologize to Eddie and our readers. We will check every name against its source before we print it.

Peter Cleaveland Steps Down

Peter Cleaveland is stepping down as Chairman of the Volunteer In-Park Emergency Unit (VIEU). Read his post for details. He asks residents to send in content, and we ask the same. Send articles, photos, notices, and news to missionbaynews@gmail.com or drop them in the MissionBayNews box at the MB Center.

Voting in the Coming Election

Every resident should know how to vote. Check your registration, ballot status, drop-off locations, and deadlines at acvote.alamedacountyca.gov. Rely on official sources, not rumor.

Why We Need Your Support

Mission Bay News is funded by advertising and by residents who choose to help. Its last paid support came in 2015. Keeping it running costs about $1 to $2 per household. The editor covers most minor costs, and the role is voluntary. The park does not appear to operate for profit, apart from the Men's and Women's Club.

The publisher says the printing bill must be paid, and the publisher also carries ongoing costs. In these difficult times, we ask residents and local businesses for ideas on how this newsletter could be funded. Before any cost reaches residents, we want to know who wants a printed copy. If you know who funded this newsletter before 2015, please tell us at missionbaynews@gmail.com.

Food and Services

Food security is a real concern for families here. Anyone offering food or services is welcome to place an advertisement in Mission Bay News. Contact missionbaynews@gmail.com.

Printed Copies

The San Leandro Times is available at the MB Center. It is not delivered to every home, and Mission Bay News would follow the same model. To set fair priorities, drop a notice in the MissionBayNews box at the MB Center marked “I want a printed copy” or “I do not want a printed copy.” Or email missionbaynews@gmail.com. Include your name and unit number if you wish.

A Review of the Newsletter

We will review the budget, distribution, advertising, and printing schedule, and we will share the results with residents.

Letters From Residents

Send comments to missionbaynews@gmail.com, post them on our temporary website or Facebook page, or drop them in the MissionBayNews box at the MB Center. The Mission Bay Book and Social Club meets the second Thursday of each month at 1 p.m. in the clubhouse craft room.

Sincerely,

The Last Earthquake Drill?

Since this is being written just before the October earthquake drill, we don't have any results yet. I'll put them into next month's column.

Due to deteriorating health, this will be the last ShakeOut drill in which I will be participating, and if I cannot find anyone to take my place will have to disband VIEU. I'm sorry, but I can't do it any more. If I can't find anyone to take over as VIEU chairman, I'll be dissolving it as a corporation. The only question remaining is what to do with the equipment and treasury. If anybody wishes to volunteer to take over, or has other suggestions, please contact me at 510-351-1742, pcleaveland@earthlink.net. I will, however, continue to write this column.

Big quake odds inch up

On September 2 The San Francisco Chronicle published new numbers on the odds of a major quake in this area over the next 30 years, broken down by the fault involved. The numbers haven't changed much, but overall they're higher than the last time they were calculated (which was more than ten years ago).

The overall probability of a major quake in the next 30 years is now 74.1 percent, up from 72 percent. For the San Andreas fault it's 25.5 percent, up from 21.7, but the Hayward-Rodgers Creek fault system (the one that's closest to Mission Bay), is now 34.3 percent, up from 33.1 percent a decade ago. And if both the Hayward and Rodgers Creek faults let go at the same time, the result could be a 7.1-magnitude quake.

But things are scarier down south, with the San Andreas and San Jacinto systems near Los Angeles at their highest stress levels in 1000 years.

最后一次地震演习？

由于本文是在十月份地震演习开始前撰写的，因此目前还没有任何演习结果。我会在下个月的专栏中公布这些结果。

由于健康状况日益恶化，这将是我最后一次参加 ShakeOut 地震演习。如果我找不到人来接替我的职位，就不得不解散 VIEU。很抱歉，但我已经无法继续承担这项工作了。

如果我找不到人接任 VIEU 主席一职，我将着手解散这个法人组织。目前唯一尚未解决的问题是如何处理组织的设备和财务资金。

如果有人愿意自愿接手，或者有其他建议，请通过以下方式与我联系：电话：510-351-1742，电子邮件：pcleaveland@earthlink.net

不过，我会继续撰写这个专栏。

大地震发生的可能性略有上升

9月 2日，《旧金山纪事报》（The San Francisco Chronicle）公布了新的数据，分析了未来30年内本地区发生大地震的可能性，并按照涉及的断层进行了分类。这些数字没有发生太大变化，但总体而言，地震发生的可能性比上一次计算时更高了。上一次计算是在十多年前进行的。

目前，未来30年内发生大地震的总体概率为74.1%，高于此前的72%。圣安德烈亚斯断层发生大地震的概率为25.5%，高于此前的21.7%。而海沃德断层—罗杰斯溪断层系统（Hayward-Rodgers Creek Fault System）的地震发生概率目前为34.3%，高于十年前的33.1%。这套断层系统距离米慢湾（Mission Bay）最近。如果海沃德断层和罗杰斯溪断层同时发生破裂，可能引发一场震级达7.1级的地震。

不过，南加州的情况更加令人担忧。洛杉矶附近的圣安德烈亚斯断层系统和圣哈辛托断层系统（San Jacinto Fault System）目前的应力水平均达到过去1,000年来的最高水平。

Community Financial Issues

Understanding Required Minimum Distributions (RMDs)

@Rube Domi

Many of us grew up with traditional pensions, Social Security, and personal savings. As retirement planning has evolved, many seniors now hold Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs) or employer-sponsored plans such as 401(k)s. For those with these accounts, the IRS requires something called a Required Minimum Distribution (RMD).

An RMD is the smallest amount of money you must legally withdraw each year from certain pre-tax retirement accounts once you reach a specific age. These withdrawals are taxable because the contributions were originally made with pre-tax dollars.

Who Needs to Worry About RMDs?

You only need to take RMDs if you have:

- A Traditional IRA
- A 401(k) or similar employer retirement plan
- A 403(b) or 457(b) plan

You do NOT need RMDs if you only have:

- A traditional pension
- Social Security
- Regular savings or CDs
- A Roth IRA (these have no RMDs during your lifetime)

Community Financial Issues

Understanding RMDs (continued)Page 2 of 3

How RMDs Are Calculated

@Rube Domi

The IRS uses your account balance (as of December 31 of the previous year) and your life expectancy factor to determine your annual RMD. Financial institutions often provide this calculation automatically, but the responsibility ultimately falls on the account owner.

Why RMDs Exist

These retirement accounts allowed tax-deferred growth for many years. RMDs ensure that the government eventually collects taxes on those funds.

Why It Matters

Failing to take an RMD can result in a 50% tax penalty on the amount not withdrawn. Even seniors who primarily rely on pensions and Social Security should check whether they have an old IRA or employer plan that requires attention.

1. Avoiding IRS Penalties on RMDs

The IRS requires you to take your RMD every year starting at age 73. If you don't take it, the IRS can charge a 50% penalty on the amount you should have withdrawn.

How to avoid the penalty:

- Know your RMD amount early — your bank or IRA custodian can calculate it for you each January.
- Take the RMD before December 31 — missing the deadline, even by one day, can trigger the penalty.
- Set up automatic withdrawals — many institutions can schedule your RMD so you never miss it.
- If you inherited an IRA, check your rules — beneficiaries have different RMD schedules.
- Ask for a penalty waiver if you made an honest mistake — the IRS often waives the penalty if you correct the issue quickly.

2. How RMD Income Can Increase IRMAA (Medicare Premium Surcharges)

Your RMD is taxable income, and it increases your Modified Adjusted Gross Income (MAGI). Medicare uses MAGI to determine whether you owe IRMAA, an extra charge added to your Medicare Part B and Part D premiums.

Why this matters: IRMAA is a cliff. If your income goes even $1 over the limit, you pay the full surcharge for that tier. A large RMD can:

- Push you into a higher IRMAA bracket
- Increase your Medicare premiums by hundreds or thousands per year
- Reduce your Social Security check (because Medicare premiums are deducted from it)

3. Speak With a Tax Professional or HICAP Before Making Decisions

RMDs, taxes, Medicare premiums, and IRMAA rules can be confusing — even for people who have handled their own finances for years. Because RMD income can increase your taxes, raise your Medicare premiums, and affect how much of your Social Security is taxed, it's important not to make decisions alone.

4. Work With Free Local Counselors

Alameda County seniors can get free help understanding RMDs, IRMAA, and Social Security:

- HICAP (Medicare counseling): 1-800-434-0222 — helps with IRMAA, Medicare costs, and appeals.
- Alameda County Area Agency on Aging: 1-800-510-2020 — provides benefits counseling and financial guidance.
- AARP Tax-Aide: 1-888-227-7669 — helps with RMD taxation and Social Security tax issues.
