The Golden State Manufactured-Home Owners League (GSMOL) is a non-profit organization formed almost 60 years ago to protect the home values and quality of life of Mobile Home owners. In addition to working with the State of California and local legislatures, GSMOL works daily at the State level lobbying for legislation that will benefit Mobile Home owners. Through our Emergency Legal Fund (ELF), GSMOL pursues violations of the Mobilehome Residency Law (MRL798…) which protects Mobile Home owners.

SHAKING OUR HEADS OVER SHAKEOUT

Well, the 2024 Great California ShakeOut happened on October 17,. but it was, to put it mildly, a disappointment. Very few homes displayed their OK/NEED HELP signs, and very few Block Captains were there to look for them.

What happened?
Two things come to mind:

• Many people did not seem to know the drill was happening, despite multiple mentions in this column and notices places in each houses' mail tubes a few days in advance.
• There was not enough publicity and neighbor-to-neighbor contact.

I'll have to accept blame for most of this. It's plain that we must do more outreach, and that my efforts to recruit more block captains have been insufficient.

In the post-drill meeting the existing block captains agreed to increase their recruitment efforts, knocking on doors and talking to people face-to-face. So you can expect to hear from your block captain some time in the near future. Please pay attention and give serious consideration to signing up.

And pay more attention to the next drill. If you don't have an OK/NEED HELP sign you can pick one up in the Center, beneath the window from the main hall to the office.

And speaking of drills, we're also considering adding a second annual drill, probably in June.

Please let us know what you think, and give serious consideration to volunteering. Remember, it's not a question of whether a bad earthquake will happen, but when.

為「ShakeOut」搖頭

「加州大地震」演習在2024 年10 月 17 日舉行。委婉地說，結果令人失望。很少有住戶張貼 "OK/NEED HELP" 「可以/需要幫助」標誌，也很少街區隊長參與及在場清點標誌。

為什麼會發生這種情況？

我想到了兩種可能性：

• 許多人似乎不知道演習正在進行中，儘管本專欄中多次提及，並且提前幾天在每個房屋的郵件管道中放置通知。

• 沒有足夠的宣傳和鄰居之間的聯繫。

我將不得不接受大部分的問責。很明顯，我們必須做更多的外展工作，而我招募更多街區隊長的努力還不夠。

在演習後的會議上，現有的街區隊長同意加強招募力度，將挨家挨戶敲門並與大家面對面交談。因此，您可以期待在不久的將來收到您的街區隊長敲門的聲音。請您高度重視並認真考慮報名成為街區隊長。

請您更加關注接下來的演習。如果您沒有 OK/NEED HELP 「可以/需要幫助」牌子，您可以在社區中心從主廳到辦公室的窗戶下方領取一個牌子。

說到演習，我們在考慮增加第二次年度演習，或許在六月。

請告訴我們您的想法，並認真考慮志願服務。請記住，問題不是是否會發生嚴重地震，而是何時發生。

Mission Bay Residents Association (MBRA)

For over 2 years, the MBRA has been asking the San Leandro City Council to amend the Rent Control Ordinance. To see where we're at on that , 8 of us from Mission Bay went to a City Council meeting on October 23 in the City Council chambers. Besides the San Leandro City Council Members, the Mayor of San Leandro, the BSM Property Manager Ryan Jasinsky and people in San Leandro who are affordable housing advocates like Ginny Madsen. Once again, the City said that they don't have the staff available to work on the Rent Control Ordinance. There is another factor. The San Leandro City Council Rules Committee reviews information and provides direction to staff on a variety of topics, including Housing protections. That process is stucked. The consensus of the City Council members is that the Rules Committee should send their advice to them. Then the City Council members can work on amending the Rent Control Ordinance. We are hoping that will happen soon.

For several months, the Mission Bay residents approached the MBRA members asking what was going on with the repair on the wall along the rail tracks. The MBRA did not consider themselves the right people who should be answering those questions however Mission Bay residents continued to ask MBRA. So MBRA sent an email to Ryan asking him to answer the questions. He replied to our questions quite quickly which we appreciated. His answer was:

- We've been in contact with PG&E from the beginning – of course!
- No worries, resident safety is a top priority for BSM
- Delay is due to construction materials, not for any other reason
- No worries, we always have your best interests at heart
- Call the office if you have questions. Please ask Wendy First!

Seasonal Traditions: A World of Holiday Joy

The holiday season is a tapestry woven with customs and rituals that bring people together, transcending borders and cultures. Exploring these traditions not only adds richness to the season but also highlights the universal desire for connection and celebration.

Europe's Festive Charm

In Germany, the famous Christmas markets, or Weihnachtsmärkte, are a cornerstone of the season. These markets, dating back to the 14th century, transform town squares into festive wonderlands filled with handcrafted gifts, mulled wine, and holiday treats like Lebkuchen (gingerbread). Similarly, in the Netherlands, Sinterklaasavond on December 5th marks the arrival of Saint Nicholas, who brings gifts and sweets for children.

Sweden celebrates St. Lucia's Day on December 13th, where young girls dress in white gowns with candlelit wreaths on their heads, symbolizing light and hope in the dark winter. This beautiful tradition is often accompanied by songs and communal gatherings.

Latin America's Vibrant Celebrations

In many Latin American countries, Christmas Eve, or Nochebuena, is the highlight of the season. Families gather for a midnight feast following Misa de Gallo (Midnight Mass).

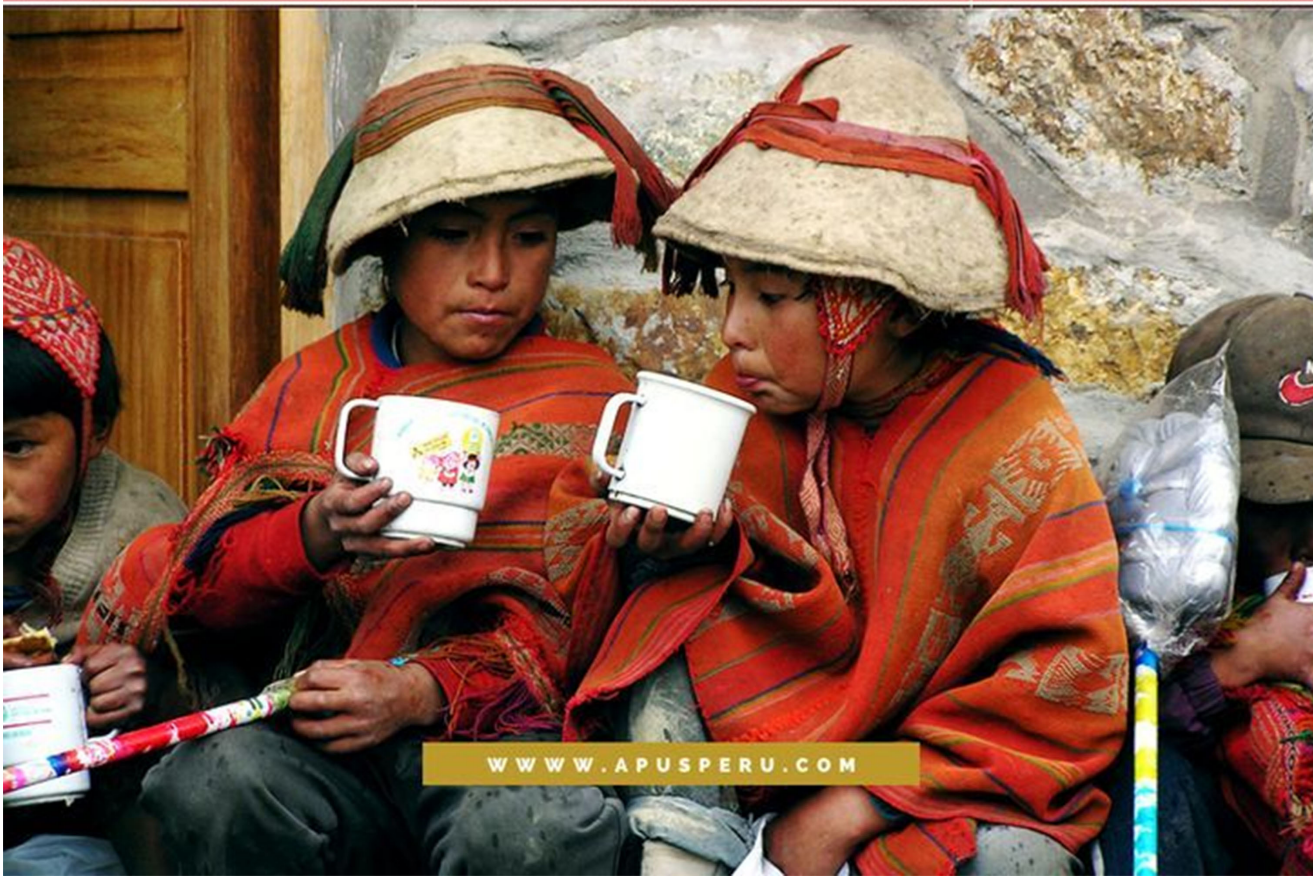

In Mexico, Las Posadas is a nine-day festival re-enacting Mary and Joseph's journey to Bethlehem. Each evening, processions of people move from house to house singing carols and seeking shelter, culminating in lively feasts and piñata games. In Puerto Rico, Parrandas involve groups of friends traveling from house to house, singing holiday songs and spreading cheer late into the night.

Christmas in African Traditions: A Celebration of Community and Joy

In Nigeria, Christmas is celebrated with street carnivals, music, and masquerades, which are deeply rooted in the country's cultural heritage. The Eyo festival in Lagos, for example, combines elements of Christmas with traditional Yoruba customs. Families also take this time to travel to their hometowns, reconnecting with extended family and sharing feasts of pounded yam, egusi soup, and grilled meats.

Ethiopia follows the Orthodox Christian calendar, which means Christmas, or Genna, is celebrated on January 7th. It's a solemn occasion marked by fasting, prayer, and a church service that begins late on Christmas Eve and continues into the early morning hours.

Christmas in Peru

Afterward, families celebrate with a traditional meal, often featuring doro wat (spicy chicken stew) and injera (flatbread). The season continues with Timkat, a colorful and joyful celebration of the baptism of Jesus.

Asian Festivities with a Unique Twist

In Japan, Christmas has taken on a unique flair, blending Western customs with local culture. While it's not a traditional holiday, many families celebrate by enjoying a special meal of fried chicken, a custom popularized by a KFC marketing campaign in the 1970s. Christmas Eve is also seen as a romantic occasion, similar to Valentine's Day.

The Philippines, known for having the longest Christmas season in the world, kicks off celebrations in September. One of its most beloved customs is the Simbang Gabi, a series of nine early morning masses leading up to Christmas Day, often followed by a festive breakfast featuring local delicacies like puto bumbong (purple rice cakes).

Personal Traditions Closer to Home

In our own community, many residents cherish their own special ways of marking the season. Whether it's decorating their homes with lights, hosting family gatherings, or baking time-honored recipes, these traditions bring comfort and joy. This year, consider starting a new tradition, like crafting homemade ornaments or writing letters to loved ones, as a way to create fresh memories while honoring the spirit of the season.

Understanding and sharing these diverse traditions can inspire us to see the holidays through new perspectives and deepen our appreciation for the universal themes of love, hope, and togetherness.

Wellness Tips for the Holidays

The holiday season can be a challenging time for individuals who may be feeling alone or unwell during the holidays. Here are some wellness tips to help make the season more manageable and uplifting:

1. Stay Connected, Even Virtually
Isolation can be particularly hard during the holidays. Encourage regular phone calls, video chats, or even written letters with loved ones. Virtual gatherings for activities like caroling, storytelling, or sharing meals can help foster a sense of connection.

2. Prioritize Self-Care
For those managing health issues, it's important to listen to your body. Prioritize rest, maintain a balanced diet, and engage in light physical activity if possible, such as a short walk or stretching exercises. Don't hesitate to set boundaries if holiday activities feel overwhelming.

3. Create a Festive Environment
Even if celebrating alone, adding small festive touches can brighten the mood. Decorate a small tree, light some candles, or play your favorite holiday music. A cozy environment can provide comfort and evoke positive memories.

4. Practice Gratitude and Reflection
Take a moment each day to reflect on things you're grateful for, no matter how small. This practice can shift focus away from negative feelings and foster a more positive outlook. Writing these down in a gratitude journal can be especially powerful.

5. Seek Support
Don't hesitate to reach out for help, whether it's talking to a friend, joining a support group, or speaking with a counselor. Many organizations offer virtual support tailored to those facing illness or loneliness during the holidays.

6. Give Yourself Permission to Feel
The holidays can stir up a mix of emotions. It's okay to feel sadness or grief; allow yourself to acknowledge these feelings without judgment. Balancing this with moments of joy, however small, can create a more holistic emotional experience.

7. Engage in Meaningful Activities
Volunteering or helping others, even in small ways, can provide a sense of purpose and fulfillment. Writing cards, knitting scarves, or baking treats for neighbors are simple yet meaningful ways to contribute to the community.

8. Focus on Small Joys

Identify small activities that bring joy, whether it's watching a favorite holiday movie, sipping a cup of hot cocoa, or reading a comforting book. These little pleasures can add up to create a more enjoyable holiday experience.

These tips aim to provide comfort and a sense of control during a time that can feel overwhelming. Remember, you're not alone, and every small step toward wellness counts.

A Visit from St. Nicholas

By Clement Clarke Moore, written Christmas Eve 1822

'Twas the night before Christmas,
when all through the house
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse;
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care,
In hopes that St.
Nicholas soon
would be there;
The children were nestled all snug in their beds;
While visions of sugar-plums danced in their heads;
And mamma in her
'kerchief, and I in my cap,
Had just settled our brains

for a long winter's nap,
When out on the lawn there arose
such a clatter,
I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter.
Away to the window I flew like a flash, Tore open the shutters and threw up the sash.
The moon on the breast of the new-fallen snow, Gave a lustre of midday to objects
below,
When what to my wondering eyes
did appear,
But a miniature sleigh and eight
tiny rein-deer,
With a little old driver so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment he must be St. Nick.
More rapid than eagles his coursers
they came,
And he whistled,
and shouted, and called them by name:
"Now, Dasher!
now, Dancer! now
Prancer and Vixen!
On, Comet! on,
Cupid! on, Donder
and Blitzen!
To the top of the porch! to the top of the wall!
Now dash away!
dash away! dash away all!"
As leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet
with an obstacle,
mount to the sky;
So up to the housetop the coursers they flew
With the sleigh full of toys, and St.
Nicholas too—
And then, in a twinkling, I heard on the roof
The prancing and pawing of each little hoof.
As I drew in my head, and was turning around,
Down the chimney
St. Nicholas came with a bound.
He was dressed all in fur, from his head to his foot,
And his clothes
were all tarnished with ashes and
soot;
A bundle of toys
he had flung on his back,
And he looked like a pedler just opening his pack.
His eyes—how they twinkled!
his dimples, how merry!
His cheeks were like roses, his nose
like a cherry!
His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard
on his chin was as white as the snow;
The stump of a pipe he held tight
in his teeth,
And the smoke, it encircled his head
like a wreath;
He had a broad face and a little round belly
That shook when he laughed, like a bowl full of jelly.
He was chubby
and plump, a right
jolly old elf,
And I laughed
when I saw him, in spite of myself;
A wink of his eye
and a twist of his head Soon gave me to know I had nothing
to dread;
He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work,
And filled all the stockings; then turned with a jerk,
And laying his finger aside of his nose,
And giving a nod,
up the chimney he rose;
He sprang to his sleigh, to his team
gave a whistle,
And away they all
flew like the down
of a thistle.
But I heard him exclaim, ere he drove out of sight—
"Happy Christmas
to all, and to all a good night!"
